

"With Dexter, we knew what we wanted to build. What surprised us was what it became."

Leif Olofsson · Chief Designer, Marten

PRESS RELEASE JUNE 2026 ·

Dexter series. Four new loudspeakers from Marten.

Designed to bring Marten's most advanced thinking into a wider range of listening spaces, the Dexter series comprises four models: Duo, Trio, Quartet and Quintet.

Dexter Quintet, Dexter Quartet, Dexter Trio and Dexter Duo share a common architecture — a Marten pure diamond tweeter developed from work done on the Coltrane Supreme Extreme project, a new triple-layer M-Core cabinet construction, and a new bass loading system developed for this series.

Dexter Quintet and Dexter Quartet are three-way designs, each featuring a Marten ceramic midrange alongside Marten carbon fibre bass drivers. Dexter Trio and Dexter Duo are built around a Marten ceramic mid/bass driver, with the same diamond tweeter found across the series. All four models are wired internally with Jorma Duality cable and designed and built at Marten's facility in Sweden.

Loaded Reflex Line — Marten's new bass loading system — combines bass reflex and transmission line principles through a shaped internal channel and wide downward-firing slotted port, reducing air velocity, extending bass depth, and allowing considerably more flexibility in room placement than conventional ported designs.

Dexter is available in four finishes: True Grain Oak, Piano Walnut, Matte Walnut and Piano Black. True Grain Oak is new to Marten and exclusive to the series. Statement Edition is available across all four models.
