European Network Music Player 2011-2012 - Musical Fidelity M1 CLiC

Network Music Player

What is the CLiC? To describe it as a digital preamp or a streamer does not do it full justice. Better to think of it as a comprehensive unit which funnels internet radio and music files from a variety of sources - including wired and wireless networks and USB sticks, CD players and even analogue sources. At its core, the CLiC uses the company's M1 24-bit/192kHz DAC, and there's a large clear colour display to help navigate its menus. It boasts a total of seven digital inputs - iPod/iPhone/iPad, a network connection, front and back USB, two coaxial and one optical from which it delivers a wonderfully open and dynamic sound that's lively, communicative and punches well above its weight.
