New Digital cable

The image shows a museum exhibit for CrystalCable's 20th anniversary. A silver braided digital cable is coiled on a white display tray. The cable features several components: a blue connector at the top left, a blue circular component, a green and yellow rectangular component, a black diamond-shaped component at the bottom, and a blue connector at the bottom right. A green fiber optic cable with a blue and red tulip-shaped connector is also present. A gold-colored metal ring is mounted on a black base behind the main cable. A white card with the CrystalCable logo and '20th Anniversary' text is placed in the center. The entire exhibit is set against a background of vertical wooden slats.
